A Desperado Killed.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 6.—William Mitchell, a local desperado, was fatally shot yesterday afternoon at Caydon, 10 miles from this city, by Deputy Sheriff John T. Hopkins, while resisting arrest. A bench warrant had been issued against Mitchell for selling liquor without license; and he had openly boasted that no officer of the law could take him. When the deputy was in his house he drew his pistol and he descended the stairs to meet him, and a duel between the two ensued. Mitchell discharged his pistol three times, but missed the officer each time. Mitchell has but recently returned from the penitentiary, where he had served a sentence for the killing of Evan Gibson at an election four years ago.

NEMO IN ARIZONA.

He Tells Something About the People, the Country and the Climate.

DEAR OLD PRESS—As I write this to your readers, the first day of the New Year, the sun is shining brightly, the air is warm and genial, and everything wears a summer aspect.

This quaint old pueblo of Tucson is said to be the oldest settlement in the United States, being almost contemporaneous with the settlement of St. Augustine, in Florida. The old Mission church of San Xavier (pronounced San Xavier) nine miles from this place, is over three hundred years old, and is still in good repair. It is built of sun dried brick, called adobe, or "dobies."

The houses in Tucson are built almost entirely of the same kind of material, there being not over a dozen real brick houses in the city, and not a frame dwelling house. The sun gets so hot here during the summer that it would be impossible to live in a frame house. The people all sleep in cots out in the open air about eight months in the year. No dew falls here during the summer, and the atmosphere is so dry and pure that out-door sleeping is the most comfortable. To show you how deceiving and rarified the air is I have only to state the San Catalina range of mountains appear to a stranger to be not over one mile from this place, and yet it is good twenty miles to the foot of them, and they are two miles high, although they look from here no higher than our Crittenden hills. That is what makes this country so valuable for invalids suffering from pulmonary complaints—its pure, dry and highly rarified air. Our city is now overrun with that class of health seekers.

There are millions of acres of the most productive land in the world now lying idle in this Territory and subject to homestead entry. Not more than a mile from this city lie thousands of acres of government land, open to entry, as rich as our Ohio river bottoms and as level as the floor, without a tree on it, just ready for the plow and seed. Any of this land can be had for the asking "without money and without price." But alas! it lacks one very essential requisite—water—to make it blossom and bring forth fruit, and without this water it now lies an unproductive, worthless desert. By sinking wells, however, an abundant amount of water can be obtained at from 25 to 30 feet, and each well ground. When you once obtain water enough to irrigate this land, it finds a ready sale all the way up from $50 to $500 an acre, according to location. If some one was out here with a well boring apparatus, and would enter 100 acres of government land a mile or two from Tucson, and sink wells on it, they would become wealthy inside of two years. This valley is one of the finest fruit countries in the world for oranges, figs, grapes, apricots, pomegranates, apples, pears, peaches and every other kind of fruit.

As I before stated, the land here, when properly irrigated, is almost fabulously productive. Two crops of almost anything can be raised on it during the year; and six crops of alfalfa hay are harvested every year—a crop every two months. This hay yields about three tons to the acre, and readily sells for $12 per ton. They also raise from 75 to 100 bushels of corn to the acre, 40 to 50 bushels of wheat, and everything else in proportion. The land is filled with sea shells, marl and other rich ingredients to a depth of ten or fifteen feet, and is therefore simply inexhaustible. This whole country was once the bed of the ocean, and the land is made from these rich marine deposits.

In time this whole country will be irrigated and come under the plow, and then indeed will it be one of the wealthiest and most magnificent spots on the face of the globe. But I would not advise any of your farmers to pull up stakes and rush out here now, unless they have a few thousand dollars to make their improvements with. The man, however, who has the money to improve the land here, can make a fortune in a very few years.

Cattle raising is one of the leading industries of this Territory. The native grasses grow wild the year round, affording splendid pasture on which the cattle keep fat. Cattle are never led anything here, and all it costs to raise a three or four year old beef is what you pay the cowboy to look after the herd. And I have never eaten fatter, better, finer flavored or tenderer beef in my life than this grass fed cattle makes. The mining interests of the Territory are now on a big boom. In fact the mountain ranges of the entire country here are rich in gold and silver. A friend of mine here, who runs a silver mine 7 miles from Tucson which has assayed $3.75 in gold and 152 ounces in silver to the ton, offered me a half interest in the mine for $500, as he had no money to work it. But I did not have the $500 with me just then and thus in all probability lost the opportunity to make several thousand dollars in a short time. An old ditchman sold his mine a short time since for $75,000 cash; and last week a saloon keeper sold his mining claim for $15,000 cash. And neither of these mines have ever been worked. But there is a good deal of risk and speculation in this mining business. Mr. L. C. Hughes, the shrewd and able editor of the Tucson STAR, told me that one year he made $22,000 speculating in mining property, and the very next year he sunk $16,000 of it in similar speculations. So you see it is a species of gambling after all.

You rarely see any paper money in circulation here. Everything is gold and silver, and there is plenty of it. I have handled a good many five and ten dollar gold pieces since reaching Arizona, but the price of everything is so enormously high that but few of them stick to my fingers.

My boy George has made the acquaintance of half the town. A few days ago two Mexican murderers and a burglar broke jail and made for a range of mountains near Tucson, and George followed the officers into the mountains in pursuit of the fugitives. He was gone all day and we had no idea what had become of him. George is a rare bird, and is learning to speak the Spanish language. But he wants to get back to Marion, he says.

We have concluded not to sell any of our real estate in your county, and one of these fine days your readers will see "Nemo" back at his old post in the Press office, there to remain during the balance of his natural life. More anon.

Very truly,
G. M. RUSSELL.

MONTANA LEGISLATURE.

The Meeting at Helena of the State and Two District Houses.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 5.—To-day was the date set for the meeting of the State Legislature, and three bodies of men met in as many different places and organized three branches of the Montana Legislature. In the Senate it was all easy sailing as the body stands ten Democrats and six Republicans. But the trouble over the tea member from Silver Bow county remains just as it did last year. Twenty-nine Republicans met in the electric light hall, when State Auditor Kinney called the roll, in which he included the five Republican contestants from Silver Bow county. All the Democratic members of the House including the five Democratic claimants from Silver Bow county, met in the evening and organized by electing Harry Courly Speaker, and a full list of officers. The Republican House also elected officers.

Just after noon the committee from the Democratic House waited upon the Senate and Governor with the information that the House of Representatives had organized and were ready for business. Governor Toole and the Senate each recognized this organization.

DISASTER.

Eleven or Twelve Miners Crushed to Death in a Utah Mine Shaft.

San Andreas, Cal., Jan. 5.—Eleven or twelve men were killed in the Utah Mine, Angels Camp today. A load of men were being lowered on a skip, and when about one hundred and fifty feet from the surface, the rope broke, precipitating all a distance of four hundred and fifty feet to the bottom of the shaft.

A Fine Wheat Crop.

Kansas City, Jan. 1.—A special from Hutchinson, Kas., says: "Advices received by the News from twenty counties in Southwestern Kansas show that there have been heavy general rains."

Reports concerning the wheat prospects are of the most flattering character. The area is the largest in the history of these counties, and the average condition on the first day of January will be the best ever known. Up to this time the weather has been mild and pleasant and there has been no suffering.

Southwestern Kansas stands upon the threshold of the new year full of hope.

Makes His Settlement.

Frankfort, Jan. 5.—Col. Thomas H. Corbett, Register of the Land Office, made his semi-annual settlement with Auditor Norman today. He paid into the State Treasury $3,115,443 as fees collected by him for the past six months, which makes his aggregate collection to date $15,495 since September 1887, when he was inducted into office.

Father Craft on the Indian Troubles.

New York, Jan. 2.—The New York Freeman's Journal will publish tomorrow a letter from Father Craft the Catholic Indian missionary, who was recently killed by the Indians. The letter was dated Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., and is addressed to the editor of the Freeman's Journal. Father Craft says in the beginning the Indians hoped for much aid from the Government to enable them to become like the whites. They were, however, in every way abused, mocked and discouraged. Instead of being wards they have felt they were the victims of unscrupulous politicians, who benefited by their misery.

Father Craft further adds: "I know what I say, for I have shared their sufferings for many years. In their despair Gen. Crook brought them to hope. Their confidence in him led them to hope that he would be able to realize their hopes. His death was their death blow, and they felt it."

"Indians are not fools, but men of keen intelligence. Reductions in rations increase their fears. Even Indian Agents protested against such cruelty. Mr. Lee, who took the census, made grave mistakes; counted less than the real numbers, and made false reports of prosperity that did not exist. It is not to be wondered that they believed in a Messiah, whom they at first doubted and listened to every deceiver who promised hope."

"Interested whites took advantage of this state of affairs and hewed for troops. The army indignantly protested against their false statements, but had to go to the scene of the supposed danger."

"Interested whites persuaded them that their entire destruction was aimed at, and the Indians, run away in fear and despair. Father, Jute calmed them, and I brought them back to the agency, and the kindness of Gen. Brooke convinced them of their safety. The General's plan to send Indians after those still out was good, and would have succeeded if the General were left alone."

"Just as the tree can be traced from its smallest branch to its root, so even the Indian troubles be traced to starvation and misery of the Indians."

In the conclusion of his letter Father Craft arraigned Commissioner Morgan in severe terms.

Latest From the Indians.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 6.—The Bee has the following from its staff correspondent:

Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., via Ravenna, Neb.—The announcement of the suspension of G. N. Forsythe came like a flash and created amazement in some minds. Official mouths are closed to all inquiries on the subject. It will probably be some time before the general public, however, later on. The unfortunate disposition of the troops, making it possible for them to do cross-firing with the result of killing one another, constitutes a part and probably the greater part of the foundation for Gen. Forsythe's suspension.

The seriousness of the situation here is increasing. Short Bull, the leading hostile chief, who has distinguished himself all along during this trouble by never for a moment considering any of the overtures looking to an amicable settlement, but who has steadily stuck to his lair in the Bad Lands, and has now assumed command of the great body of hostiles, last night told our spies that he would take this agency if it cost every warrior he had. Hall breeds here have been informed by friends and relatives, some of them being near the hostiles, that they had better remove their families a long distance from the agency, as a great massacre was certain. The half-breeds are showing us what they think of this information by getting their families out of here with a rush. The Government herders, John Dwyer and Isaac Clark Pugh, have both disappeared, through their Indian friends of years standing, that a raid and massacre has been fully decided upon and maturely planned.

Gen. Miles is thoroughly conversant with all these facts, and himself says that our situation is extremely critical. There are less than 600 soldiers here now, all told.

The party sent to Wounded Knee to bury the dead Indians returned late last night. They found and buried 84 dead men and 63 women and children. It was also found that five had been buried by the Indians. In addition to this total of 152 we have heard now and then of others who have been carried away by hostile parties, etc., sufficient to swell the number of dead Indians, as a result of the battle of Wounded Knee, to full 200, with several others yet to die in the improvised hospital here.

What is Sapolio? It is a solid handsome cake of scouring soap which has no equal for all cleaning purposes except in the laundry. To use it is to value it. What will Sapolio do? Why it will clean paint, make oil cloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the grease off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath tub, even the greasy kitchen sink will be as clean as a new pin if you use Sapolio. One cake will prove all we say. Be a clever housekeeper and try it.

Crimson Clover. Crimson clover closely resembles common red clover in appearance, except in the shape and color of the blossom, the color is a bright crimson. The crimson clover differs from red clover in that it is an annual. A correspondent in Rural New Yorker, writing from Delaware, says that in that state crimson clover is largely grown for the purpose of plowing under in the spring as a green manure. He says "several farmers in Kent county last season were so well pleased with it that they seeded large areas of their peach orchards and corn fields with it for the purpose of filling their silos with the green fodder. It is greedily eaten by all kinds of stock. If cut and cured before it matures it makes an excellent quality of hay."

Professor Hall, of the Michigan Agricultural college, after repeated trials of crimson clover on a small scale, thinks it of no value for Michigan. Professor Galley is of the same opinion for Mississippi. Mr. D. C. Hays, however, is in favor of it, and has been successful in what he has done at New York. It is not hardy in Michigan, according to Dr. Dail.

Government Lands. In his annual report of the operation of his bureau for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, the commissioner of the general land office says that an agricultural bounty of nearly 12,000,000 acres has during the year been transferred to enterprising and industrious settlers by patents issued to them, while the same amount of land was withdrawn from the public domain and set aside for other purposes.

The census of the United States for 1900, the commissioner of the general land office says that an agricultural bounty of nearly 12,000,000 acres has during the year been transferred to enterprising and industrious settlers by patents issued to them, while the same amount of land was withdrawn from the public domain and set aside for other purposes.

Winter Feeding of Stock. In many cases during the winter feeding consists in throwing a few ears of corn into the boxes and filling the manger with hay. To cattle some corn and fodder are given and the horses are limited almost entirely to corn. Where stock is fed in this way, says a Missouri farmer, it costs more and they will not keep in as good condition as when a good variety is supplied. With many this keeping on feed is considered a luxury and not a necessity. It is not a luxury, but a necessity, and the result of it is that the stock is kept in better condition and the result of it is that the stock is kept in better condition and the result of it is that the stock is kept in better condition.

Here and There. New York state is credited with 2,000 good factories. Arkansas has seven cronometers. Wisconsin has a large cranberry crop of good quality. A large acreage of wheat has been sown for next year's crop. Buyers have been driven west of the Mississippi for apples to supply the east this season.

Farm Journal is authority for the statement that a centrifuge factory and all useful machinery can be started now for $2,000, suitable for handling the milk of 500 cows. For 400 cows $1,500 is enough.

Commercial Fertilizer vs. Manure. In a recent bulletin from the Ohio station, Director Thomas says: "As this farm, where by thorough drainage and tillage we have been able this year to produce an average of thirty bushels of wheat per acre without any fertilizer, we are disposed to even second opinions as to the necessity of increasing the crop to pay the cost of the fertilizer, although here a year manure has paid more than three times the cost of its application."

WHAT IS SAPHOLIO? It is a solid handsome cake of scouring soap which has no equal for all cleaning purposes except in the laundry. To use it is to value it. What will SAPHOLIO do? Why it will clean paint, make oil cloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the grease off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath tub, even the greasy kitchen sink will be as clean as a new pin if you use SAPHOLIO. The New Sheriff

Monday morning Jan. 5, Sheriff elect Cruce filed his bond as sheriff with the county clerk. His bondsmen are: W. I. Cruce, L. W. Cruce, S. F. Adams, J. F. Loyd, A. Dean, H. T. Flannery, J. P. Pierce and P. B. Croft.
Mr. L. W. Cruce qualified as deputy sheriff, and the two officers entered at once upon the discharge of their duties.
Tax Supervisors.
Messrs. W. B. Yandell, John Jackson, W. J. LaRue, J. W. Guess and G. P. Wilson, tax supervisors convened in Marion Monday and proceeded to the work of supervising the assessors books. They will remain in session five days, and parties who are erroneously assessed have the privilege of appealing to them for an adjustment.
Cremated.
Last week a negro was arrested for disorderly conduct at Kuttawa and put in the lock-up of that place. In the night he conceived the idea of burning the "lock-up" and escaping; he accordingly put fire to his prison, and the consequence was that the prisoner as well as the prison was destroyed. The mangled remains of the man was found among the ashes next morning.

Death at Eddyville.
Eddyville, Ky., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Clara Cassidy, wife of Dan B. Cassidy, died this morning of heart disease. She died during the night very suddenly, and none of the family were apprised of the fact until this morning. She has been in poor health for years, but had recently improved, giving her friends hope of ultimate recovery.
Selling Liquor.
Last week Joe and Aaron Morgan applied to county Judge Moore for a warrant charging Dr. Davis and Berry Rich with selling liquor without license, selling liquor to minors, and keeping a tippling house. During the week numerous other persons from Blackford filed complaints against the parties named. Monday the papers were placed in Sheriff Cruce's hands and he went to hunt up the parties. It seems from the statements of the people of that section that Rich is clerking for Davis, who is selling liquor as a druggist in this county near Blackford. Davis, who is a physician, gives prescriptions for liquor and Rich fills them.

Frank L. Hancock, of Owensboro, U. S. Pension and Patent attorney, will be at Marion Jan. 14, 15, 16, 17. If you have any interests of this kind, remember that Mr. Hancock is an excellent attorney to look after it for you.

A Surprise Party.

Having comfortably settled in their new home, Fred Robertson and family were passing the evening happily and quietly Thursday; about 7 o'clock a couple of neighbors dropped in; in a few minutes another couple accidentally called; then another party happened in. This continued until about thirty had crossed the threshold, and then it dawned upon Fred and his esteemed wife that it was a surprise party. An exceedingly pleasant evening was spent. The guests were regaled with a fine luncheon, embracing the choicest dainties of the season—to say nothing of the superb wines. Good music was called into requisition and the dancing begun. A merry time was had, and when they departed the visitors proclaimed that they had been royally treated.
On Tuesday evening a number of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson older (not older, but married) friends paid them a call, each carrying a basket or bundle of eatables, and the host and hostess entertained another surprise party in the good old Kentucky style. After the banquet, they joined in the merry old games that cheered their hearts in "suld lang zion." There was Geo. Gray, blushing like a youth in his teens, as he submitted gracefully to "Old Sister Phely," and Dr. Swope kept time to "Weevely Wheat," as merrily as he did twenty-years ago, and Ham Loving kicking "Rocky Ann" with greater vehemence than he balances a bank book, and there were numerous others who turned the wheel of time back a quarter of a century and "cut capers" of the youth, but they have begged us to keep mum, as church discipline and the dignity of age must be respected.

Knights H. K. Woods, H. F. Ray, M. L. Hays, J. W. Blue, Jr., and R. M. Moore attend the public installation of officers of Silver Lodge K. P. at Sturgis Monday night. The occasion was one of general gathering of the clans; Henderson, Morgansfield and Uniontown lodges were well represented. After the work was done, an elegant supper was served, and such a supper defies description. It would have tickled the taste of the proudest epicurean. Silver Lodge knows how to entertain her guest.
Union Labor Meeting.
The Union Labor committee of Crittenden county will meet at the Court house in Marion next Monday county court day, to send a delegate to the great convention of all wealth powers & laborers to be held in Cincinnati on the 23rd day of Feb. All Farmers organizations are invited to meet with us, who desire financial relief, and who endorse the alliance demands made at St. Louis in Dec 1889. We earnestly request all Union Labor men to be on hand. We pity the men who for any motive deserted our principles in the Supreme moment. Sunshine patriots deserve no honor. It is the self sacrificing hero, who does his whole duty regardless of jeers, or the plaudits of the multitude that deserve the thanks of humanity. Every reform movement on earth has been cursed with traitors and drones. Every Union Labor man now is a patriot. He must have honest convictions, with nerves of iron, and sinews of steel. Let us on with the fight. No surrender. No barter. No betrayal. We must agitate. We must educate. The impregnable principles of our party must live, or else justice and republic will be blotted from the face of the earth. George Washington and his band of patriots, marked the snow with blood from their bare feet at Valley Forge, that a Republic might be born. The man today who is unwilling to make some personal sacrifices for good of all, deserves neither the thanks of humanity nor the blessings of God.

A party composed of Misses Nellie and Mary Wilson, Mattie and Fannie Blue, Cora Pierce, and Mr. J. W. Blue and Mr. G. M. Crider will start to New Orleans in a few days. They will take a steamer at Tolu, and will be gone three weeks.
Miss Nina Wilcox returned from Hopkinsville last week. She has been under the treatment of the physicians of the Western Kentucky Asylum at that place. She is entirely recovered and speaks in very complimentary terms of the physicians of the asylum; and of the much kindness she received at their hands while there.
Mr. Parin, a citizen of this county, died at his home near Dycusburg last week.
Mr. A. J. Picken, retires from the sheriff's office with a good record behind him. He has served the county efficiently and satisfactorily for four years in an important office.
The local branch of the Building and Loan Association made its first draw from the home office last week. Mr. J. E. Brawner subscribed for ten shares of stock and borrowed $500 to finish paying for his nice little home near the depot. The local board has been notified that another application for a loan of $1500 has been granted. In a thriving town like Marion it is no trouble to borrow money on good real estate, at six per cent. The interest and principal is paid in monthly installments. There are numbers who could thus borrow money, buy homes, and pay for them in seven years—the time estimated for maturity of stock—and expend no more than they will for rents in the same time. The local board is composed of the following persons: R. C. Walker, Prest; H. A. Haynes, Secy; J. W. Blue, Jr., Atty; H. H. Loving, Sam Gugenheim, J. E. Brawner, and H. F. Ray. Parties who desire a full explanation of the plans, will be cheerfully informed if they will call upon the Secretary, who will also supply them with pamphlets explaining everything relative thereto in detail.
I was disappointed in getting a printer in time to issue the Monitor this week, but will be out on time next week, having secured the services of Mr. Harry D. Bangh. Sorry for the delay and trust it will not happen again.

The Constitutional Convention's
Legislative Committee proposes a reduction of the number of Representatives from 100 to 60; and Senators from 38 to 20. The new plan is to divide the State into ten constitutional districts. The corresponding of the Courier-Journal in discussing the arrangement of the counties should the measure be adopted says:
In the First district, composed of Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle, Ballard, McCracken, Livingston, Graves, Callaway, Marshall, Trigg, Lyon, Caldwell, Union and Crittenden, the loss will be only three representatives. The peculiar position of Union county in this arrangement will probably enable it to retain its separate representative although it has only 3,199 votes, while the basis of representation in these counties is 4,556. McCracken will have to take apartner, probably Livingston, while the Mississippi river counties, Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard, would altogether make one district with 5,203 votes. Trigg might have to go in with Marshall and Lyon to make up 4,499 votes. Caldwell and Crittenden would make up 4,740, while Graves by taking in Callaway, would make the 8th district, with 4,930 votes.
A New Railroad.
The survey of the Evansville and Chattanooga railroad was begun at Henderson yesterday under the charge of Capt. A. B. Fitch, of Terre Haute. On this subject the Courier, of Evansville, said yesterday: "There are certain indications pointing to the fact that a very deep meaning is back of this. The Courier, just here, pauses to predict that we shall see a great railroad line from Chicago to the South Atlantic and Gulf via Evansville. This line is fifty miles shorter than any other from Chicago by either Cincinnati or Louisville, and is the 'Evansville Southern.' To say nothing of the new territory opened to Evansville, the fact that we shall occupy the middle ground on the Ohio—the gateway to the New South—is enough of itself to forecast the immense importance of the enterprise to our people. It is no Utopian to see a bridge at Evansville and a transfer to Henderson in connection with it. So that one company will make up the trains and deliver them over the new bridge at Henderson and Evansville, practically making these cities one."
"This situation of affairs at Evansville and Henderson will invite other roads and enterprises, and give to both an impetus not dreamed of by either."
In Memoriam.
Little Leslie, son of B. G. and M. E. Teer, aged 5 years and eleven months, died Dec 2, 1890. He was a bright beautiful boy, with lovely disposition and many ways, and his death is a sad, sad blow to his fond parents, brothers and sisters. The earth's brightest gems are often gathered home while the dew of morning still sparkles upon them, and before the heat of day, and dust of toil and travel blight their beauty.

Hillyard & Woods, the druggist give ten reasons why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best.
1. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment.
2. It does not suppress a cough or cold; but loosens and relieves it.
3. It relieves the lungs, which is of great importance in treating a cold.
4. It is the only remedy that will cause the expulsion of mucus from the air cells of the lungs.
5. It renders the mucus less tenacious and easier to expectorate.
6. It freely used as soon as the first symptoms appear, it will cure a severe cold in a single day.
7. It will prevent croup and avert all danger and anxiety arising from that dreaded disease.
8. It has cured thousands of cases of croup, and careful inquiry fails to discover a single case in which it has ever failed.
9. It does not contain opium, chloroform, nor any other injurious substances. There is not the least danger in giving it to children.
10. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, and freeing the system of morbid matter, accumulated by cause of the cold. 50 cents per bottle.
